The hub of pro bono legal services in Philadelphia since 1981

Dear Friends of VIP,

We are pleased to share Philadelphia VIP's 2015 Annual Report with you, our friends and partners. Our complete audited financial statements are also available at www.phillyvip.org.

We are deeply proud of what VIP has accomplished this year but also recognize the challenges before us.

To meet those challenges, VIP launched several new initiatives in 2015 while sharpening its focus on existing programs. VIP continually evaluates, retools, and plans its programs to ensure we are serving clients as efficiently and effectively as possible.

We also know that to meet those challenges, we must be responsible stewards of the investments you all have made in our work. This report is an example of our commitment to transparency in both our programs and our finances.

It is a privilege and honor to do this work and we appreciate all that you do to help us achieve our mission of access to justice for all. Thank you so much.

Sincerely,

Mortgage Foreclosure Court

VIP staff and volunteers support Philadelphians, who are trying to save their homes, through the Residential Mortgage Foreclosure Diversion Program. Each week, volunteers assist with intake and attorneys provide ongoing and emergency representation to clients. This program provides a voice in court for unrepresented borrowers and demystifies the mortgage foreclosure process for those in need. VIP's participation in this program has helped hundreds of Philadelphians stay in their homes.

When her mother died, Robin inherited her family home. Since then, she has made it her own, living there with her two daughters and their four children. Robin lost her job shortly after her mother's death and fell behind on the mortgage payments. After going to mortgage foreclosure court, Robin found Philadelphia VIP and was paired with volunteer attorney Christina Donato Saler of Chimicles & Tikellis LLP.

Christina walked Robin through each step of the foreclosure process. Ultimately, Christina was able to save Robin's home and negotiated manageable payments. Today, Robin enjoys her home with her family in their close-knit neighborhood.

Maintaining Income

Debt Conciliation Project

In 2015, VIP helped create a debt conciliation pilot project designed to bring consumers and creditors together to resolve outstanding debts. VIP and Community Legal Services trained volunteer attorneys who then provided representation in cases that had been chosen for the pilot program. In many cases, volunteers were able to get cases dismissed or return favorable payment plans for their clients. Ultimately, this partnership between VIP, CLS, Philadelphia Municipal Court, and the creditors' bar empowered clients to avoid the harsh penalties associated with debt cases.

Mariame

Years ago, Mariame created a small cleaning business to support herself. One tax season, an unscrupulous tax preparer took advantage of her trust and overstated her withholdings. Her tax problems grew until she could no longer keep up with IRS payments. That's when she came to Philadelphia VIP. She was matched with Benjamin Bolas of Dilworth Paxson LLP. Together, Mariame and Benjamin put together all of the paperwork they needed for the IRS. Benjamin negotiated the penalty down from over $12,000 to just $800, which Mariame immediately paid. Today, Mariame can move forward with her life as a full-time student and mother of three children without her debt burden. She is set to begin her bachelor's degree in nursing on a scholarship this year.

Supporting Family Stability

Adoption | Child Custody | Divorce | Guardianship |
Name Change | Wills and Estate Planning

Divorce Clinic

In December 2015, VIP hosted its first Divorce Clinic in partnership with Philadelphia Legal Assistance, Cozen O'Connor, and the ACE Group (now Chubb). The clinic offered a venue where volunteers could offer advice to clients on how to file paperwork to obtain a divorce. The program first offered training to the volunteer attorneys from Cozen and ACE about how to counsel clients through the divorce process. Next, teams of attorneys met with clients for 90 minutes and walked them through the necessary steps to obtain a divorce. The clients were then invited to attend a follow-up clinic in 2016 to continue working on their divorces.

When Joseph and his wife finalized their divorce, they agreed on everything except how to share custody of their six year old son, Isaiah. At first, Joseph and his ex-wife split Isaiah's time evenly between them. However, when Joseph's ex-wife began keeping Isaiah from him, Joseph wanted equal time as a parent.

After contacting VIP, Joseph was paired with volunteer attorney Maria Testa of Testa & Pagnanelli. Maria recommended that Joseph request a formalized custody agreement. While Joseph was nervous about a legal fight with his ex-wife, Maria prepared Joseph for his court date and negotiated a shared physical and legal custody agreement. Today, Joseph is a fully engaged dad.

Nonprofit Organizations and Small Business Assistance

Nonprofit Legal Assessment Clinic

On July 30, 2015, VIP held a nonprofit legal assessment clinic at the Free Library of Philadelphia. This clinic brought together volunteer attorneys, experts, and nonprofit organizations to work on legal issues facing the nonprofits. Volunteers first attended a seminar which trained them on a nonprofit assessment checklist that would ensure a strong legal foundation for new organizations. After the training, volunteers met with representatives of each nonprofit organization to provide counsel and advice.

Brewerytown Beats

Just a year old, Brewerytown Beats is a colorful, welcoming record store on Girard Avenue. Owner Max Ochester had collected records in his basement for years before deciding to share his passion for music with his neighborhood.

Max came to Philadelphia VIP for business law help, where he was matched with Robert Powers, an associate at Morgan Lewis & Bockius LLP. With the help of Robert and supervising attorney Jeffrey Bodle, Max incorporated his business so that it can grow and be an active part of the Brewerytown neighborhood.

2015 Highlights

VIP held its annual Taste for Justice fundraiser on October 5, 2015 at the Reading Terminal Market. Guests enjoyed a butter tasting from head chef George Sabatino of Aldine, a cheese selection from Valley Shepherd Creamery, and a brandy tasting from Western Grace Brandy. The fundraiser also included a successful silent auction.

2015 marked the launch of VIP's Corporate Counsel Collaborative, which brings corporate counsel and law firms from around the Philadelphia area together to work on VIP cases. This project is designed to increase pro bono participation by corporate counsel and develop relationships between VIP volunteers while serving more clients throughout the city.

CORPORATE COUNSEL
COLLABORATIVE

On June 12, 2015, Philadelphia VIP held its 20th annual Summer Pro Bono Program. This program teaches law students the importance of pro bono service and introduces them to volunteering with VIP. Law students attended a lunch with members of the judiciary and listened to a panel of VIP volunteers and a client speak about their experiences.

2015 Highlights

VIP's Managing Attorney, Ourania Papademetriou, was elected to the Philadelphia Court of Common Pleas in November of 2015. Rainy was sworn in on January 21, 2016 and is currently serving on Philadelphia's Family Court.

VIP welcomed several new staff members to the team in 2015: Development Associate Megan Shaeffer, Pro Bono Case Manager Rida Haq, Community Economic Development Coordinator Alison Merrick, and Staff Attorney Lindsay Schoonmaker.

The issue of civil forfeiture gained significant public attention throughout 2015. The Philadelphia Daily News featured the issue by highlighting the work of a VIP attorney with her client, whose home was seized by the city. Additionally, former VIP Board President Matt Lee was recognized for his civil forfeiture work by the Pennsylvania Legal Aid Network.

Philadelphia VIP provides fair and equal access to the legal system for residents and businesses in Philadelphia. The demand for civil legal aid far exceeds the services currently available. By mobilizing legal volunteers, Philadelphia VIP exponentially increases access to justice for low-income Philadelphians.

Invest in Philadelphia VIP so we can in turn say YES to more clients. With your support, VIP volunteers can help more clients break the cycle of poverty or exploitation, overcome obstacles, and navigate complex issues. With your support, VIP can help more low-income Philadelphians meet basic human needs, build assets, and begin to pursue a promise of prosperity.
